

PRESIDENT VISITS POPE GETS WARM WELCOME

By ROBERT J. BENDER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Pope Benedict greeted President Wilson with outstretched arms today. The Pope's reception to the American President was extremely cordial. He clasped Wilson's hands in both of his and shook them warmly. After this greeting the Pope and President entered the Throne Room and went into a private conference at some length. The President went direct from the American embassy to the Vatican where he arrived at 3.45. A platoon of Swiss guards in gay uniforms guarded the gates while the Gendarme band played the Star Spangled Banner. Entering St. Damascus Court the President was met by a company of Gendarmes, a platoon of Swiss guards and a platoon of Vatican troops who presented arms. A cortege formed here with military officers leading and another platoon of Swiss guards in the rear. When they entered Clementine Hall, Monsignor Samper, Master of Ceremonies, welcomed the President in the name of the Pope. He escorted the President to the Hall of Arms from which the party entered the Throne room. Monsignor Samper stepped to the door of the Throne Room and announced to the Pope that President Wilson had arrived.

Pope Benedict came forward smilingly and clasped the President's hands. The Pope and President then entered the Throne Room for a private conference. Monsignor Samper closed the door behind them. The President's party remained in the Hall of Arms. At the conclusion of the conference a bell rang and Monsignor Samper opened the door. The Pope came forward and President Wilson introduced the members of his party. As the members conferred with the Pontiff the President visited the Borgian apartments with Cardinal Gaspari, Papal secretary of state. When the President left the same formalities were observed as at his arrival.

THE HUN UNCHANGED

WARSAW, Jan. 3.—Several children who paraded in Posen in honor of John Paderewski were killed by German machine guns, it was reported here today. Five bullets entered the room in which Paderewski sat but he was not hurt. He arrived with Col. Wade, of the British army.

GERMANS BEAT BACK INVADERS

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 4.—German troops defeated Polish invading forces in the battle at Lissa and Nakel, Berlin dispatches reported today. The German superiority in artillery gave them the victory. (Lissa is 42 miles southwest of the city of Posen, and Nakel is 60 miles northeast of Posen.)

WILSON AND ITALY IN ACCORD

PARIS, Jan. 3.—President Wilson and the Italian government have reached a complete agreement on the essential points of the peace settlement, Rome dispatches to Le Information declared today. Dispatches said it is understood that the President's visit to Italy "is a success".

LONDON TO PARIS BY AIRPLANE WILL SOON BE A FACT

(By United Press)

LONDON, Dec. 17. (By Mail).—Londoners expect to see airplane caravans making regular passenger runs to Paris and London before spring.

Two concerns are rushing preparations in competition for the honor of inaugurating passenger air service to France. They are the Handley-Page Co., and the Aircraft Travel and Transport Co., Ltd.

Within a few days after the signing of the armistice announcements came from both companies of plans for cross-channel trips.

Within a few hours, hundreds of persons had booked passage. Fares are quoted $50 and $75, one way.

Present plans permit the carrying of hand baggage only by passengers. Later, promoters announce, facilities will be prepared by which passengers may check trunks.

Both companies plan to use gigantic bombing type planes capable, they promise, of transporting passengers in electrically-heated cabins.

The Handley-Page Co. recently sent a bomber to Paris with 20 passengers. Lunch was served before the return. The round trip was completed between breakfast and dinner.

The inauguration of regular London-Paris service is dependent on relaxation of the British and French passport regulations. Civilian travel between the two countries still is practically prohibited.

Commercialization of the airplane is expected to come rapidly in England and on the continent. Thousands of army aviators are available as pilots.

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA, Dec. 1. (By Mail).—The men who represented Australia in the war are not going to be bashful about asking for what they consider their rights when they get back.

An indication of what may be expected in this line is contained in demands formulated by the Returned Sailors' and Soldiers' Imperial League. This organization has about 3,500 members. It demands:

That all property and money owned by German-born persons in Australia be confiscated.

That returned men and dependents of fallen men be freed from taxation on income derived from personal exertion for five years.

That men from the fighting forces be selected to represent the commonwealth at the peace conference.

That fit men employed at home by the defense department be replaced by returned warriors.

STOCKS IRREGULAR

New York, Jan. 4.—Week end adjustments in accounts brought irregular price changes today at the opening of the stock market. Movements were fairly large. United States Steel opened at 96 off 12, Marine 27 up 4, Reading 88 1/2 off 1/4, Marine preferred 113 1/2 up 1/2, Crucible Steel 59 off 1/4.

Predictions are many that the farm and on the continent. Thousands of army aviators are available as pilots.

WEST SIDE DRUNK HAS SOME TIME

Patsy Dockett, who lives in the alley in the rear of Gearhart's Knitting Machine Factory got lit up on high priced booze last night and going home proceeded to break open a "family jar" and raise the devil generally.

He drove his wife and little daughter out of the house and neighbors say kicked the woman down stairs and injured her severely. The mother and daughter were given shelter at a neighbors house and then the house couldn't even get along with himself. It is alleged he threw a lighted lamp onto his bed for want of a better place to locate it and then the fire began. The flames from the lamp communicated with the bed and observing neighbors sent in a fire alarm.

The whistle sounded at 3:15 and Chief Hopper and all four companies responded. The Third Ward boys quickly laid a line of hose and as the dense smoke made it impossible to use the chemical tanks a dash or two of M. and M. soon stopped the proceedings. The damage from fire was confined to the bed but smoke and water added to the total.

If the facts are as we got them from those familiar with the situation, the guilty rummy richly deserves punishment at the hands of the law.

FRENCH GIRLS' THANKS IS FROM THEIR HEARTS

(By United Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 16. (By Mail).—A big Y. M. C. A. truck was floundering through the mud of a country road in France. Heavily loaded with wood, the vehicle was barely able to get through the morass but it slowed down still more to avoid hitting some cattle grazing beside the way. Three little girls, whose average age probably was 12 years, were tending the few bony cows. As the truck lumbered past, one of the girls handed the Red Triangle secretary a small package. The Y. M. C. A. man and the three soldiers of the wood detail waved adieu to their small friends and went on.

"Dear American Soldier: By this letter we wish to thank you for the patriotism you have shown in coming to defend the soil of France, and leaving your wives, your children, and your parents. It is thanks to you soldiers of America that France is not boche. We thank you greatly dear soldiers of America; the children of France will not forget you."

"Yond, Nait, Henriette"

Next day, Leon L. Rice, the Y. M. C. A. worker who had received the packet, went back over the same road, hoping to find the girls and tell them how much he appreciated their sentiment and the nuts. But he never has been able to get a trace of them. They evidently had no particular recipient in mind when they wrote the touching little letter, but simply took this means of thanking any Americans in uniform they might meet.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Forty-two of E. P. Carr's relatives and friends gathered at his home on Turnpike Monday night and surprised him very much, the occasion being his 77th birthday. When he arrived home from his work at 7 o'clock the guests had all arrived and the table was laden with good things to eat.

Mr. Carr received some very nice presents. The evening was spent in playing games, singing, and dancing, and at late hour they all departed for their homes, wishing Mr. Carr many more happy birthdays.

The out of town guests present were Mrs. Frank Lech and three sons, of Curwensville and W. F. Shoff, of Patton.

Organized labor in Oregon is preparing to introduce in the coming legislature a number of measures calculated to better the condition of women workers.

TASK OF RESCUE AT FIRE ISLAND GOES SLOWLY TO FINISH

FIRE ISLAND, Jan. 4.—In extreme cold, and with the work rendered more perilous by a rough sea, rescue workers today began removing from the stranded transport Northern Pacific the 200 badly wounded men still remaining. Many were lowered over the sides in stretchers to submarine chasers which conveyed them to the hospital ship Solace which kept in close to the sand bar. Coast guards and sailors risked their lives repeatedly to get the wounded to safety. The breakers were so high that submarine chasers and patrol boats were knocked again and again by their car goes of American soldiers. The snow storm and weather cleared for the first time since the boat ran ashore early Wednesday morning. High seas caused the transport to rock violently. Undoubtedly this caused much discomfort to those aboard. Rescue ships were fearful lest they be swept onto the beach.

The transporting of the wounded to the Solace was more dangerous than their removal from the wreck. It took from ten to fifteen minutes to get a helpless man from the submarine chasers to their hospital ship when the storm was at its worst.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—With 445 wounded officers and men rescued from the transport Northern Pacific, the transport Malloy arrived today at the port of embarkation at Hoboken. The wounded, many of them suffering from exposure, were immediately sent to various army base hospitals in the district. The majority of them were transported in motor ambulances to hospital No. 3 and to this island.

HAND INJURED

A very painful accident occurred in the job department of this office yesterday morning, when A. B. Lutz, top man of the department, had his hand in a wheel making adjustment on an automatic press. The delivery finger of the press caught Mr. Lutz in the palm of the right hand, but by quick action Mr. Lutz was able to stop the press and prevent a more serious injury. While very painful the injury is not serious, although Mr. Lutz will be laid up for some time.—DuBois Courier.

M'ADOO MAKES PLEA FOR RENEWAL OF R. R. CONTROL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Warning Congress that return of the railroad to private control would mean a return to the old evils, Director General McAdoo today urged a five year extension of government control. Summarizing, McAdoo told the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee before which he appeared that unless Congress extended Federal control the railways will soon be returned, that valuable returns by the Railroad Administration will be lost forever, and that if government control is continued, the government will get a surplus of $100,000,000 or more in 1919. A reduction in rates is likely by the end of the year under government control.

POLAND WILL NEED NEW FIRE AID OF HUMANITY IN GETTING RIGHTS

(By United Press)

LONDON, Dec. 16. (By Mail).—Something must be done for Poland, according to Poles in London. Situated between revolutionary Germany and revolutionary Russia, the newly freed people of Poland are in precarious situation. While it is claimed the country has suffered greater devastation through the war than any other country, it has been impossible for the outside world to send aid, neither Germany nor Russia offering a satisfactory channel. Now that the port of Danzig is open relief can be sent by sea direct.

When Russia, Austria and Germany finally ceased fighting back and forth across Poland they had laid waste approximately 110,000 square miles equal to the combined areas of New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. In the Austrian zone of occupation alone more than 200,000 buildings were destroyed, notwithstanding the occupied country was chiefly agricultural. Livestock worth $40,000,000 was carried off in the first two years. In the German zone 37 per cent. of all the horses were taken; in the Austrian zone, 58 per cent.

The result is that prices now are practically prohibitive. A farmer wishing to cultivate his land must pay 1. times the pre-war price for a horse. In Cracow the price of bread is 30 times the pre-war price and the same is true of fats.

Heretofore funds collected for Polish relief have been utilized in helping Poles outside their own country. Now that a way has been opened, London Poles are seeking to enlist the world's help in order that Poland may not be caught in either the maelstrom to the east of her or in that threatening of the west.

Ex Chief Connolly Reports Fine Growth of Organization During His Eight Year Term

WILL BE GIVEN TESTIMONIAL

The following officers were installed at a meeting of the Clearfield Fire Department held in the parlors of the Elk Hose company on Friday street last evening:

Chief—L. F. Hopper, of Elk Hose Company.
First Assistant—Ira Jay, of Second Ward Company.

Second Assistant—Harry Cochran, of Third Ward Company.
Secretary—A. P. Spangler, of Company No. 1.

Treasurer—Ed E. Chase of Third Ward Hose Company.

Former Chief J. D. Connolly, who retired last night after eight years in the harness, gave a detailed history of the department during those years in which he outlined the growth and development of Clearfield's fire fighting forces during those years. In that time the Second Ward Company was organized, the membership of the department increased from 125 to more than 300; handsome new brick hose houses built in the Second and Fourth wards; electric fire alarm installed; the department motorized, by the acquiring of a combination chemical and hose wagon, city service truck, and ladder wagon and two hose wagons, while 5100 feet of hose, nozzles, and other equipment was acquired. Former Chief's report showed a balance in the department treasury of $555, the general treasury containing $109.02 while the balance was in Department Band fund, a fund of twenty-four pieces also having been added during the past year.

Following his installation Chief Hopper thanked the boys for the honor conferred upon him and asked for the hearty co-operation of all firemen in the future. He detailed some of his plans for greater efficiency in the department and his remarks were given careful attention and most enthusiastically received.

The retiring chief was "handed a few bouquets" and a committee consisting of S. B. Smith, Secretary of No. 1 Company, First Assistant Chief Ira Jay, of Second Ward; William Burge, of Third Ward, and President D. L. Beck, of Elk Hose, was named to secure some suitable presents to show the department's appreciation of its retiring head. The committee retired and after brief deliberation returned and recommended the purchase of a gold watch, the cost of which to be equally divided among the four companies of the department. The recommendation was unanimously adopted.

The memorial committee reported that the department memorial exercises had been arranged to be held in the West Side Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday evening, Jan. 19th, the sermon to be preached by Rev. C. C. Snively.

It was unanimously decided to locate the department service flag permanently in the parlors of the Elk Hose company as an added tribute of respect to the memories of Hayes M. Wilson and Earl E. Dugardner, members of that company, and the only two of the eighty-one representatives of the department in the armed service of the nation to make the supreme sacrifice for their country and their flag. The committee in charge was directed to have a suitable case prepared for the flag's safe keeping in the future.

On invitation of F. W. Hollis, of the Third Ward company, it was decided to hold the next meeting of the department in the Third Ward Hose House on Friday evening, Jan. 24th.

SATURDAY EVENING, JANUARY 4, 1919.

How do you like 1919?

The new year will be just what we make of it. If we approach it with misgivings and fear as to what it holds for us, we will retard progress and industry. If reconstruction and readjustment pinches us it will be because we fail to recognize approaching pitfalls and do not use good business judgment. Peace time business should not be nearly as hazardous as war time business. We are much more likely to suffer through fear and timidity than through a bold and fearless course. Let business go on. Let the buyer buy and the seller sell.

Personal dislikes and animosities always stand in the way of the bigger and better things of life. Often we meet a man whose makeup does not harmonize with our standard of a man but this is often the result of snap judgment and is just as likely to be the fault of the judge as the judged. Then again these same men who have failed to break through the crust of our instinct often turn out to be our best friends in time of need. So much for that animal dislike which so many of us allow to become barnacles on our judgment. Dislike, hate and animosities growing out of personal differences and business transactions are most frequently the outgrowth of jealousy rather than a righteous indignation at a wrong committed. Now is a good time to think of your towns-men, your fellow citizens and your neighbor. Look in your own heart for the seat of the trouble and in nine times out of ten you will find it there.

A friend in need is a friend indeed. And when sickness or accident overtakes us we are mighty glad to be taken over to that little Clearfield Hospital to receive proper care and attention. So often though we forget what we owe to such an institution and what our part is in the keeping of it going to say nothing of the many enlargements and improvements which are made from time to time. Few people go through life without making at least one journey to a hospital. It is therefore everybody's duty to support it.

Politically the year 1919 will mark some great changes in the makeup of the national, state and municipal governments. In addition it will be a period of political manipulation on the part of the Democratic administration which will attempt to hold the reins of government for another four years in 1920. During this year the people will not forget what they believe to have been the mistakes of the present administration but rather will watch more closely for a guide as what their course will be in 1920. Our next presidential election will be a matter of greater interest to the average American than for many years.

Our mail subscribers like our red envelope system. We are however behind in getting them out to subscribers whose paper expires from Jan. 1st to 10th. They are going out today. These papers will be continued until Jan. 10th in order to give all a chance to remit. Fire the red envelope back to us early next week.

Our sister city of Philipsburg is to be congratulated upon the improvement of their newspapers there. The Daily Journal has made rapid strides in the past year in their news columns and while we do not agree with their political policy we do believe that the added feature of editorials will have a great deal to do with their future success. Only one vestige of the dark ages remains with the Journal and we hope that we will not tramp on any toes when we refer in this manner to their front page advertising. The Ledger under the capable editing of Mr. Gates is one of the newest little weeklies in the state and we always admire its clean pages as well as its carefully written editorials.

THAT INDEFINABLE FREEDOM OF SEAS

(By United Press.)
LONDON, Dec. 17. (By Mail).—A certain distinguished American was the guest of a number of notable Londoners at dinner. In order that he might have something to talk about when his time came, he asked the hostmaster to suggest that all present give their ideas of what is meant by "the freedom of the seas." All present did so.
"And when they had finished," said the distinguished American, "I was in worse fix than before; I couldn't, in the least, tell what they'd been talking about."

AS YOUNG AS YOUR KIDNEYS

The secret of youth is ELIMINATION OF POISONS from your body. These poisons can live to ruin your body. They can ruin the good things of life with one touch "pep" as you did when in the prime of youth. Keep your body in good condition, that's the secret. Watch the kidneys. They filter and purify the blood, all of which blood passes through them once every three minutes. Keep them clean and in good working condition and you have nothing to fear. Drive the poisons out with a steady stream of urine. Take GOLD MEDAL, Harnett Oil Capsules and you will always be in good condition. You will feel strong and vigorous, with steady nerves and elastic muscles. GOLD MEDAL, Harnett Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratory at Harnett, Holland.
They are a reliable remedy which has been used by the world's greatest doctors and has helped them to develop into one of the strongest and healthiest races of the world. Get them from your druggist. Do not take a substitute. In sealed packages—three doses.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

The four or five inches of snow that fell during Thursday night was certainly a boon to the juvenile who received a new sled for Christmas. It was a pleasure to watch the little chaps as they glided down the sidewalk, each vying with the other in wanting to be first. Most of the youngsters, in order to make their sleds run the faster, used the old style of "belly button" riding. If there is not a number of sore stomachs today it will be surprising.

If this borough has a street commissioner he most certainly was derelict in clearing the snow from the street crossings Friday.

Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Cal Gano and children are expected home from West Point within the next few days. Mrs. Gano and children will spend the balance of the winter in the home mountains.

It has been rumored that some of the town physicians are not carding some homes where influenza exists. Whether this is done through pure forgetfulness or for some personal motive, we are not free to say, but this we will say, that every physician who neglects to fulfill the state and local board of health laws ought to be fined to the limit, regardless of who he is or what his standing in the community. In neglecting to card homes where the epidemic exists, is placing the good health of all those who reside round about in jeopardy and also is not fair to the physicians who do follow the law to the letter. Let every physician do his duty and thereby guard the disease spreading, using the same precautionary law and rules as he would in his own family.

Dr. Jenkins who has been a member of the local board of health for a number of years, has tendered his resignation to that body. He has made a most efficient officer and the citizens of Curwensville are sorry to see him take this step just at this time.

NORWAY WANTS THE PRESIDENT TO GET HIS POT OF GOLD

(By United Press.)
CHRISTIANA, NORWAY, Dec. 10. (By Mail).—While President Wilson is visiting in Europe, he should run up here and get his gold medal and his $36,000, Sandinavians say.

The awarding of the Nobel peace prize to President Wilson in Christiana in due form would give the Norwegian government great pleasure. Besides, one of the conditions of the award is that the recipient come to Christiana and deliver an address on peace. Right now, custodians of the Nobel fund are said to hold would be the best time of all for President Wilson to deliver an address on peace.

When President Roosevelt was awarded the prize the condition relating to the address in Christiana was waived on account of the president's duties in Washington. But in Wilson's case it is believed the commission in charge of awarding the prize would consider that the President could find time while on his European trip to step up here and receive the medal and the $36,000 in person.

Alfred Bernhard Nobel, Swedish scientist, left a fortune of $9,000,000 interest on which he stipulated should be expended each year in providing awards for the five persons contributing most valuable work in advancing medicine, physics, idealistic literature, chemistry, and the promotion of peace. Elihu Root and Theodore Roosevelt are the Americans who have won the peace prize. Not all of the five prizes are awarded every year, because trustees of the fund spend so much of the income for administrative purposes that there is not enough left to provide prizes of suitable size.

However, the Scandinavians are of opinion that $36,000 and a gold medal ought to be sufficient inducement to bring the President north during his stay in Europe.

Among its many claims to celebrity Chicago boasts of the fact that it has more women barbers than any other city of the world.

SPORTS LIFTED TO HIGHER PLANE BY FIGHTING FORCES

By H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The past of sports lies in the ash heap of the fires of 1917 and 1918. The future stretches over a rosy era, born in the fires which left their marks in deep fissures.

The years of trouble and inaction were short, but their influence will be felt to a great extent when sports again get the sendoff.

Inaction will not be felt long. Reopening soldiers and reopening of business along the lines of peace will give their aid in putting games of all sorts on a firmer footing even than they held before war came.

One of the army camps has come a long way from boxing that never existed before. The average soldier who never saw a boxing match before he went to shoulder a rifle for Uncle Sam now realizes that in this sport is typical of the very best of American manhood. He realizes that, conducted along decent, clean lines, there is no sport that has a greater fascination for the American public. For this reason it may be expected that the year 1919 will be one of the greatest boxing ever saw. Championship bouts are in the offing. That they will be held, attended by tremendous audiences, seems a foregone conclusion.

The reason for this is that many thousands of soldiers cared nothing for sports because they never had been given the opportunity of witnessing high class contests in any line. Since they became members of the army boxing contests, baseball, football, and track and field meets have become commonplace. They learned to like them. Therefore, they will yearn for the same thing when they again don civilian dress and take up civilian habits.

There have been no extraordinary developments in the army. There are a few boxers, of course, who have had the advantage of instructors in the army, but the constant moving from place to place and the rigid enforcement of army discipline, which requires a certain amount of work and drill from each soldier, has prohibited close application to the technique of the game. But there will be graduates to the class of professionals from the ranks of the fighters when they are mustered out, and these will help boxing.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(BY REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JANUARY 5

PHARAOH OPPRESSES ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 1:7-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—He shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor.—Psalms 72:4.

DEVOTIONAL READING—Psalms 2.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Exodus 1:1-6; Hebrews 11:23-27.

The book from which the next eight lessons are taken is a continuation of the story of the chosen people. Its central theme is redemption—the deliverance of Israel from bondage and their separation unto God. The question of relationship from Egyptian bondage is a type of our own redemption from sin's bondage (1 Corinthians 5:7). Pharaoh represents the devil, and Egypt the world.

I. The Increase of the Chosen Seed (1:7).

After Joseph's death Israel quickly grew into a nation. This increase was the fulfillment of Genesis 35:11, which promise was repeated to Jacob just before going into Egypt (Genesis 46:3). If it be the problem of how a little company of seventy persons could become an host of six hundred thousand men in so short a time, let us remember that God promised it, and all difficulties will vanish. There is a time coming when there shall be another amazing increase in Israel (Ezekiel 36:10, 11, 37, 38; 37:26).

II. A New Dynasty (1:8-10).

Joseph's elevation in Egypt was during the reign of the Hyksos kings. Being of Semitic origin they were not hostile to the Hebrews, but when there arose up a new king which knew not Joseph (v. 8) the amazing growth of the Israelites excited his envy and fear (vv. 9, 10). This fear was twofold: (1) In case of war they might join the enemy and fight against them. (2) Lest they should remove from the land, thus cutting off a vital source of revenue and exposing to danger the eastern border of the land.

III. Measures to Check the Growth of Israel (1:11-22).

These measures place on exhibition the folly of worldly wisdom (1 Corinthians 3:19). Their fatal mistake was that they left God out of their calculations. God had promised that Israel should be great in numbers and mighty in power. He who plans against God shall miserably fail and shall be shown to be a fool.

1. Cruel Taskmasters (vv. 11-14). They were placed under heavy burdens. Cruel taskmasters were placed over them who forced them to labor in building treasure cities and all manner of service in the field. This measure was ineffectual, for "the more they afflicted them, the more they multiplied and grew." This rapid growth resulted in more intense burdens being heaped upon them.

2. Murder of Male Infants by the Midwives (vv. 15-21). This measure also miscarried, as the midwives feared God and chose to obey him. Because they refused to destroy God's people he gave them homes and children and the joys thereof.

3. Drowning of Male Children in the River (v. 22). In order to make this measure effective all the people were charged with the responsibility of casting the Hebrew male children into the river. This mandate seems to have been given shortly before Moses was born. This plan likewise was foiled, and the very child who when a man upset his throne, was sheltered and nurtured in his own palace.

IV. The Birth and Education of Moses (2:1-5).

The measure which was designed to destroy the Hebrew menace, also brought to Pharaoh's palace and educated there the very man who afterward shattered the Egyptian power and set free the enslaved people. The faith of Moses' parents caused them to ignore the command of the king and hide him for three months (Hebrews 11:23). Faith in God is the antidote for fear (Psalms 27:1). His mother discerned in him a proper child, or a child fair to God (Acts 7:20), and believed him to be the deliverer of his people. She no doubt instilled this truth in his mind from his childhood. Perhaps led by the story of Noah's ark she made an ark of bulrushes and placed Moses in it and left it at the place where Pharaoh's daughter would be attracted when she came down to bathe. Miriam, his sister, was placed where she could watch the affair. She came with a suggestion at the opportune moment as to a nurse for the baby. Education at his mother's knee gave character, and education at the Egyptian court qualified him to be the historian and lawgiver of his people.

Necessary Ingredients.

"Love suffereth long and is kind; love envieth not; love vaunteth not itself." Get these ingredients into your life. Then everything that you do is eternal. It is worth doing. It is worth giving time to.

Self-Denial.

Self-denial when regularly kept up and not only indurated now and then, out of laziness or partial affection, is one of the dearest tokens that God's holy spirit is with men, preparing them for eternal glory.—Keeble.

PRESIDENT VISITS POPE GETS WARM WELCOME

By ROBERT J. BENDER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Pope Benedict greeted President Wilson with outstretched arms today. The Pope's reception to the American President was extremely cordial. He clasped Wilson's hands in both of his and shook them warmly. After this greeting the Pope and President entered the Throne Room and went into a private conference at some length. The President went direct from the American embassy to the Vatican where he arrived at 3.45. A platoon of Swiss guards in gay uniforms guarded the gates while the Gendarme band played the Star Spangled Banner. Entering St. Damascus Court the President was met by a company of Gendarmes, a platoon of Swiss guards and a platoon of Vatican troops who presented arms. A cortege formed here with military officers leading and another platoon of Swiss guards in the rear. When they entered Clementine Hall, Monsignor Samper, Master of Ceremonies, welcomed the President in the name of the Pope. He escorted the President to the Hall of Arms from which the party entered the Throne room. Monsignor Samper stepped to the door of the Throne Room and announced to the Pope that President Wilson had arrived.

Pope Benedict came forward smilingly and clasped the President's hands. The Pope and President then entered the Throne Room for a private conference. Monsignor Samper closed the door behind them. The President's party remained in the Hall of Arms. At the conclusion of the conference a bell rang and Monsignor Samper opened the door. The Pope came forward and President Wilson introduced the members of his party. As the members conferred with the Pontiff the President visited the Borgia apartments with Cardinal Gaspari, Papal secretary of state. When the President left the same formalities were observed as at his arrival.

THE HUN UNCHANGED

WARSAW, Jan. 3.—Several children who paraded in Posen in honor of John Paderewski were killed by German machine guns, it was reported here today. Five bullets entered the room in which Paderewski sat but he was not hurt. He arrived with Col. Wade, of the British army.

GERMANS BEAT BACK INVADERS

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 4.—German troops defeated Polish invading forces in the battle at Lissa and Nakel, Berlin dispatches reported today. The German superiority in artillery gave them the victory. (Lissa is 42 miles southwest of the city of Posen, and Nakel is 60 miles northeast of Posen.)

WILSON AND ITALY IN ACCORD

PARIS, Jan. 3.—President Wilson and the Italian government have reached a complete agreement on the essential points of the peace settlement, Rome dispatches to Le Information declared today. Dispatches said it is understood that the President's visit to Italy "is a success".

LONDON TO PARIS BY AIRPLANE WILL SOON BE A FACT

(By United Press)

LONDON, Dec. 17. (By Mail).—Londoners expect to see airplane caravans making regular passenger runs to Paris and London before spring.

Two concerns are rushing preparations in competition for the honor of inaugurating passenger air service to France. They are the Handley-Page Co., and the Aircraft Travel and Transport Co., Ltd.

Within a few days after the signing of the armistice announcements came from both companies of plans for cross-channel trips.

Within a few hours, hundreds of persons had booked passage. Fares are quoted $50 and $75, one way.

Present plans permit the carrying of hand baggage only by passengers. Later, promoters announce, facilities will be prepared by which passengers may check trunks.

Both companies plan to use gigantic bombing type planes capable, they promise, of transporting passengers in electrically-heated cabins.

The Handley-Page Co. recently sent a bomber to Paris with 20 passengers. Lunch was served before the return. The round trip was completed between breakfast and dinner.

The inauguration of regular London-Paris service is dependent on relaxation of the British and French passport regulations. Civilian travel between the two countries still is practically prohibited.

Commercialization of the airplane is expected to come rapidly in England and on the continent. Thousands of army aviators are available as pilots.

Thousands of well-to-do persons soon will be in use.

(By United Press)

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA, Dec. 1. (By Mail).—The men who represented Australia in the war are not going to be bashful about asking for what they consider their rights when they get back.

An indication of what may be expected in this line is contained in demands formulated by the Returned Sailors' and Soldiers' Imperial League. This organization has about 3,500 members. It demands:

That all property and money owned by German-born persons in Australia be confiscated.

That returned men and dependents of fallen men be freed from taxation on income derived from personal exertion for five years.

That men from the fighting forces be selected to represent the commonwealth at the peace conference.

That fit men employed at home by the defense department be replaced by returned warriors.

STOCKS IRREGULAR

New York, Jan. 4.—Week end adjustments in accounts brought irregular price changes today at the opening of the stock market. Movements were fairly large. United States Steel opened at 96 off 12, Marine 27 up 4, Reading 88 1/2 off 1/4, Marine preferred 113 1/2 up 1/2, Crucible Steel 59 off 1/4.

Predictions are many that the farm and on the continent. Thousands of army aviators are available as pilots.

WEST SIDE DRUNK HAS SOME TIME

Patsy Dockett, who lives in the alley in the rear of Gearhart's Knitting Machine Factory got lit up on high priced booze last night and going home proceeded to break open a "family jar" and raise the devil generally.

He drove his wife and little daughter out of the house and neighbors say kicked the woman down stairs and injured her severely. The mother and daughter were given shelter at a neighbors house and then the house couldn't even get along with himself. It is alleged he threw a lighted lamp onto his bed for want of a better place to locate it and then the fire began. The flames from the lamp communicated with the bed and observing neighbors sent in a fire alarm.

The whistle sounded at 3:15 and Chief Hopper and all four companies responded. The Third Ward boys quickly laid a line of hose and as the dense smoke made it impossible to use the chemical tanks a dash or two of M. and M. soon stopped the proceedings. The damage from fire was confined to the bed but smoke and water added to the total.

If the facts are as we got them from those familiar with the situation, the guilty rummy richly deserves punishment at the hands of the law.

FRENCH GIRLS' THANKS IS FROM THEIR HEARTS

(By United Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 16. (By Mail).—A big Y. M. C. A. truck was floundering through the mud of a country road in France. Heavily loaded with wood, the vehicle was barely able to get through the morass but it slowed down still more to avoid hitting some cattle grazing beside the way. Three little girls, whose average age probably was 12 years, were tending the few bony cows. As the truck lumbered past, one of the girls handed the Red Triangle secretary a small package. The Y. M. C. A. man and the three soldiers of the wood detail waved adieu to their small friends and went on.

"Dear American Soldiers: By this letter we wish to thank you for the patriotism you have shown in coming to defend the soil of France, and leaving your wives, your children, and your parents. It is thanks to you soldiers of America that France is not boche. We thank you greatly dear soldiers of America; the children of France will not forget you."

"Yond, Nait, Henriette"

Next day, Leon L. Rice, the Y. M. C. A. worker who had received the packet, went back over the same road, hoping to find the girls and tell them how much he appreciated their sentiment and the nuts. But he never has been able to get a trace of them. They evidently had no particular recipient in mind when they wrote the touching little letter, but simply took this means of thanking any Americans in uniform they might meet.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Forty-two of E. P. Carr's relatives and friends gathered at his home on Turnpike Monday night and surprised him very much, the occasion being his 77th birthday. When he arrived home from his work at 7 o'clock the guests had all arrived and the table was laden with good things to eat.

Mr. Carr received some very nice presents. The evening was spent in playing games, singing, and dancing, and at late hour they all departed for their homes, wishing Mr. Carr many more happy birthdays.

The out of town guests present were Mrs. Frank Lech and three sons, of Curwensville and W. F. Shoff, of Patton.

TASK OF RESCUE AT FIRE ISLAND GOES SLOWLY TO FINISH

FIRE ISLAND, Jan. 4.—In extreme cold, and with the work rendered more perilous by a rough sea, rescue workers today began removing from the stranded transport Northern Pacific the 200 badly wounded men still remaining. Many were lowered over the sides in stretchers to submarine chasers which conveyed them to the hospital ship Solace which kept in close to the sand bar. Coast guards and sailors risked their lives repeatedly to get the wounded to safety. The breakers were so high that submarine chasers and patrol boats were knocked again and overboard. The snow storm and weather cleared for the first time since the boat ran ashore early Wednesday morning. High seas caused the transport to rock violently. Undoubtedly this caused much discomfort to those aboard. Rescue ships were fearful lest they be swept onto the beach.

The transporting of the wounded to the Solace was more dangerous than their removal from the wreck. It took from ten to fifteen minutes to get a helpless man from the submarine chasers to their hospital ship when the storm was at its worst.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—With 445 wounded officers and men rescued from the transport Northern Pacific, the transport Malloy arrived today at the port of embarkation at Hoboken. The wounded, many of them suffering from exposure, were immediately sent to various army base hospitals in the district. The majority of them were transported in motor ambulances to hospital No. 3 and to this island.

HAND INJURED

A very painful accident occurred in the job department of this office yesterday morning, when A. B. Lutz, top man of the department, had his hand in a wheel making adjustment on an automatic press. The delivery finger of the press caught Mr. Lutz in the palm of the right hand, but by quick action Mr. Lutz was able to stop the press and prevent a more serious injury. While very painful the injury is not serious, although Mr. Lutz will be laid up for some time.—DuBois Courier.

M'ADOO MAKES PLEA FOR RENEWAL OF R. R. CONTROL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Warning Congress that return of the railroad to private control would mean a return to the old evils, Director General McAdoo today urged a five year extension of government control. Summarizing, McAdoo told the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee before which he appeared that unless Congress extended Federal control the railways will soon be returned, that valuable returns by the Railroad Administration will be lost forever, and that if government control is continued, the government will get a surplus of $100,000,000 or more in 1919. A reduction in rates is likely by the end of the year under government control.

POLAND WILL NEED AID OF HUMANITY IN GETTING RIGHTS

(By United Press)

LONDON, Dec. 16. (By Mail).—Something must be done for Poland, according to Poles in London. Situated between revolutionary Germany and revolutionary Russia, the newly freed people of Poland are in precarious situation. While it is claimed the country has suffered greater devastation through the war than any other country, it has been impossible for the outside world to send aid, neither Germany nor Russia offering a satisfactory channel. Now that the port of Danzig is open relief can be sent by sea direct.

When Russia, Austria and Germany finally ceased fighting back and forth across Poland they had laid waste approximately 110,000 square miles equal to the combined areas of New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. In the Austrian zone of occupation alone more than 200,000 buildings were destroyed, notwithstanding the occupied country was chiefly agricultural. Livestock worth $40,000,000 was carried off in the first two years. In the German zone 37 per cent. of all the horses were taken; in the Austrian zone, 58 per cent.

The result is that prices now are practically prohibitive. A farmer wishing to cultivate his land must pay 1. times the pre-war price for a horse. In Cracow the price of bread is 30 times the pre-war price and the same is true of fats.

Heretofore funds collected for Polish relief have been utilized in helping Poles outside their own country. Now that a way has been opened, London Poles are seeking to enlist the world's help in order that Poland may not be caught in either the maelstrom to the east of her or in that threatening of the west.

Ex Chief Connolly Reports Fine Growth of Organization During His Eight Year Term

WILL BE GIVEN TESTIMONIAL

The following officers were installed at a meeting of the Clearfield Fire Department held in the parlors of the Elk Hose company on Friday street last evening:

Chief—L. F. Hopper, of Elk Hose Company.

First Assistant—Ira Jay, of Second Ward Company.

Second Assistant—Harry Cochran, of Third Ward Company.

Secretary—A. P. Spangler, of Company No. 1.

Treasurer—Ed E. Chase of Third Ward Hose Company.

Former Chief J. D. Connolly, who retired last night after eight years in the harness, gave a detailed history of the department during those years in which he outlined the growth and development of Clearfield's fire fighting forces during those years. In that time the Second Ward Company was organized, the membership of the department increased from 125 to more than 300; handsome new brick hose houses built in the Second and Fourth wards; electric fire alarm installed; the department motorized, by the acquiring of a combination chemical and hose wagon, city service truck, and ladder wagon and two hose wagons, while 5100 feet of hose, nozzles, and other equipment was acquired.

Chief Hopper thanked the boys for the honor conferred upon him and asked for the hearty co-operation of all firemen in the future. He detailed some of his plans for greater efficiency in the department and his remarks were given careful attention and most enthusiastically received.

The retiring chief was "handed a few bouquets" and a committee consisting of S. B. Smith, Secretary of No. 1 Company, First Assistant Chief Ira Jay, of Second Ward; William Burge, of Third Ward, and President D. L. Beck, of Elk Hose, was named to secure some suitable presents to show the department's appreciation of its retiring head. The committee retired and after brief deliberation returned and recommended the purchase of a gold watch, the cost of which to be equally divided among the four companies of the department. The recommendation was unanimously adopted.

The memorial committee reported that the department memorial exercises had been arranged to be held in the West Side Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday evening, Jan. 19th, the sermon to be preached by Rev. C. C. Snively.

It was unanimously decided to locate the department service flag permanently in the parlors of the Elk Hose company as an added tribute of respect to the memories of Hayes M. Wilson and Earl E. Dugardner, members of that company, and the only two of the eighty-one representatives of the department in the armed service of the nation to make the supreme sacrifice for their country and their flag. The committee in charge was directed to have a suitable case prepared for the flag's safe keeping in the future.

On invitation of Mrs. Helen Rollins of the Third Ward company it was decided to hold the next flag of line department in the Third Ward Hose House on Friday evening, Jan. 19th.

SATURDAY EVENING, JANUARY 4, 1919.

How do you like 1919?

The new year will be just what we make of it. If we approach it with misgivings and fear as to what it holds for us, we will retard progress and industry. If reconstruction and readjustment pinches us it will be because we fail to recognize approaching pitfalls and do not use good business judgment. Peace time business should not be nearly as hazardous as war time business. We are much more likely to suffer through fear and timidity than through a bold and fearless course. Let business go on. Let the buyer buy and the seller sell.

Personal dislikes and animosities always stand in the way of the bigger and better things of life. Often we meet a man whose makeup does not harmonize with our standard of a man but this is often the result of snap judgment and is just as likely to be the fault of the judge as the judged. Then again these same men who have failed to break through the crust of our instinct often turn out to be our best friends in time of need. So much for that animal dislike which so many of us allow to become barnacles on our judgment. Dislike, hate and animosities growing out of personal differences and business transactions are most frequently the outgrowth of jealousy rather than a righteous indignation at a wrong committed. Now is a good time to think of your townsmen, your fellow citizens and your neighbor. Look in your own heart for the seat of the trouble and in nine times out of ten you will find it there.

A friend in need is a friend indeed. And when sickness or accident overtakes us we are mighty glad to be taken over to that little Clearfield Hospital to receive proper care and attention. So often though we forget what we owe to such an institution and what our part is in the keeping of it going to say nothing of the many enlargements and improvements which are made from time to time. Few people go through life without making at least one journey to a hospital. It is therefore everybody's duty to support it.

Politically the year 1919 will mark some great changes in the makeup of the national, state and municipal governments. In addition it will be a period of political manipulation on the part of the Democratic administration which will attempt to hold the reins of government for another four years in 1920. During this year the people will not forget what they believe to have been the mistakes of the present administration but rather will watch more closely for a guide as what their course will be in 1920. Our next presidential election will be a matter of greater interest to the average American than for many years.

Our mail subscribers like our red envelope system. We are however behind in getting them out to subscribers whose paper expires from Jan. 1st to 10th. They are going out today. These papers will be continued until Jan. 10th in order to give all a chance to remit. Fire the red envelope back to us early next week.

Our sister city of Philipsburg is to be congratulated upon the improvement of their newspapers there. The Daily Journal has made rapid strides in the past year in their news columns and while we do not agree with their political policy we do believe that the added feature of editorials will have a great deal to do with their future success. Only one vestige of the dark ages remains with the Journal and we hope that we will not tramp on any toes when we refer in this manner to their front page advertising. The Ledger under the capable editing of Mr. Gates is one of the newest little weeklies in the state and we always admire its clean pages as well as its carefully written editorials.

THAT INDEFINABLE FREEDOM OF SEAS

(By United Press.)
LONDON, Dec. 17. (By Mail).—A certain distinguished American was the guest of a number of notable Londoners at dinner. In order that he might have something to talk about when his time came, he asked the hostmaster to suggest that all present give their ideas of what is meant by "the freedom of the seas." All present did so.

"And when they had finished," said the distinguished American, "I was in worse fix than before; I couldn't, in the least, tell what they'd been talking about."

AS YOUNG AS YOUR KIDNEYS

The secret of youth is ELIMINATION OF POISONS from your body. These poisons can live to be 100 years old, and they are the cause of all the "peps" as you did when in the prime of youth. Keep your body in good condition, that's the secret. Watch the kidneys. They filter and purify the blood, all of which blood passes through them once every three minutes. Keep them clean and in good working condition and you have nothing to fear. Drive the poisons out, and you are young again. You will feel strong and vigorous, with steady nerves and elastic muscles. GOLD MEDAL, Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratory at Haarlem, Holland. They are a reliable remedy, which has been used by the world's greatest doctors, and has helped them to develop into one of the strongest and healthiest races of the world. Get them from your druggist. Do not take a substitute. In sealed packages—three each.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

The four or five inches of snow that fell during Thursday night was certainly a boon to the juvenile who received a new sled for Christmas. It was a pleasure to watch the little chaps as they glided down the sidewalk, each vying with the other in wanting to be first. Most of the youngsters, in order to make their sleds run the faster, used the old style of "belly button" riding. If there is not a number of sore stomachs today it will be surprising.

If this borough has a street commissioner he most certainly was diligent in clearing the snow from the street crossings Friday.

Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Cal Gano and children are expected home from West Point within the next few days. Mrs. Gano and children will spend the balance of the winter in the home mountains.

It has been rumored that some of the town physicians are not carding some homes where influenza exists. Whether this is done through pure forgetfulness or for some personal motive, we are not free to say, but this we will say, that every physician who neglects to fulfill the state and local board of health laws ought to be fined to the limit, regardless of who he is or what his standing in the community. In neglecting to card homes where the epidemic exists, is placing the good health of all those who reside round about in jeopardy and also is not fair to the physicians who do follow the law to the letter. Let every physician do his duty and thereby guard the disease spreading, using the same precautionary law and rules as he would in his own family.

Dr. Jenkins who has been a member of the local board of health for a number of years, has tendered his resignation to that body. He has made a most efficient officer and the citizens of Curwensville are sorry to see him take this step just at this time.

NORWAY WANTS THE PRESIDENT TO GET HIS POT OF GOLD

(By United Press.)
CHRISTIANA, NORWAY, Dec. 10. (By Mail).—While President Wilson is visiting in Europe, he should run up here and get his gold medal and his $36,000, Scandinavian say.

The awarding of the Nobel peace prize to President Wilson in Christiana in due form would give the Norwegian government great pleasure. Besides, one of the conditions of the award is that the recipient come to Christiana and deliver an address on peace. Right now, custodians of the Nobel fund are said to hold would be the best time of all for President Wilson to deliver an address on peace.

When President Roosevelt was awarded the prize the condition relating to the address in Christiana was waived on account of the president's duties in Washington. But in Wilson's case it is believed the commission in charge of awarding the prize would consider that the President could find time while on his European trip to step up here and receive the medal and the $36,000 in person.

Alfred Bernhard Nobel, Swedish scientist, left a fortune of $9,000,000 interest on which he stipulated should be expended each year in providing awards for the five persons contributing most valuable work in advancing medicine, physics, idealistic literature, chemistry, and the promotion of peace. Elihu Root and Theodore Roosevelt are the Americans who have won the peace prize. Not all of the five prizes are awarded every year, because trustees of the fund spend so much of the income for administrative purposes that there is not enough left to provide prizes of suitable size.

However, the Scandinavians are of opinion that $36,000 and a gold medal ought to be sufficient inducement to bring the President north during his stay in Europe.

Among its many claims to celebrity Chicago boasts of the fact that it has more women barbers than any other city of the world.

SPORTS LIFTED TO HIGHER PLANE BY FIGHTING FORCES

By H. C. HAMILTON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The past of sports lies in the ash heap of the fires of 1917 and 1918. The future stretches over a rosy era, born in the fires which left their marks in deep fissures.

The years of trouble and inaction were short, but their influence will be felt to a great extent when sports again get the sendoff.

Inaction will not be felt long. Reopening soldiers and reopening of business along the lines of peace will give their aid in putting games of all sorts on a firmer footing even than they held before war came.

One of the army camps has come a long way from boxing that never existed before. The average soldier who never saw a boxing match before he went to shoulder a rifle for Uncle Sam now realizes that in this sport is typical of the very best of American manhood. He realizes that, conducted along decent, clean lines, there is no sport that has a greater fascination for the American public. For this reason it may be expected that the year 1919 will be one of the greatest boxing ever saw. Championship bouts are in the offing. That they will be held, attended by tremendous audiences, seems a foregone conclusion.

The reason for this is that many thousands of soldiers cared nothing for sports because they never had been given the opportunity of witnessing high class contests in any line. Since they became members of the army boxing contests, baseball, football, and track and field meets have become commonplace. They learned to like them. Therefore, they will yearn for the same thing when they again don civilian dress and take up civilian habits.

There have been no extraordinary developments in the army. There are a few boxers, of course, who have had the advantage of instructors in the army, but the constant moving from place to place and the rigid enforcement of army discipline, which requires a certain amount of work and drill from each soldier, has prohibited close application to the technique of the game. But there will be graduates to the class of professionals from the ranks of the fighters when they are mustered out, and these will help boxing.

(BY REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JANUARY 5

PHARAOH OPPRESSES ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 1:7-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—He shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor.—Psalms 72:4.

DEVOTIONAL READING—Psalms 2.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Exodus 1:1-6; Hebrews 11:23-27.

The book from which the next eight lessons are taken is a continuation of the story of the chosen people. Its central theme is redemption—the deliverance of Israel from bondage and their separation unto God. The question of relationship from Egyptian bondage is a type of our own redemption from sin's bondage (1 Corinthians 5:7). Pharaoh represents the devil, and Egypt the world.

I. The Increase of the Chosen Seed (1:7).

After Joseph's death Israel quickly grew into a nation. This increase was the fulfillment of Genesis 35:11, which promise was repeated to Jacob just before going into Egypt (Genesis 46:3). If it be the problem of how a little company of seventy persons could become an host of six hundred thousand men in so short a time, let us remember that God promised it, and all difficulties will vanish. There is a time coming when there shall be another amazing increase in Israel (Ezekiel 36:10, 11, 37, 38; 37:26).

II. A New Dynasty (1:8-10).

Joseph's elevation in Egypt was during the reign of the Hyksos kings. Being of Semitic origin they were not hostile to the Hebrews, but when there arose up a new king which knew not Joseph (v. 8) the amazing growth of the Israelites excited his envy and fear (vv. 9, 10). This fear was twofold: (1) In case of war they might join the enemy and fight against them. (2) Lest they should remove from the land, thus cutting off a vital source of revenue and exposing to danger the eastern border of the land.

III. Measures to Check the Growth of Israel (1:11-22).

These measures place on exhibition the folly of worldly wisdom (1 Corinthians 3:19). Their fatal mistake was that they left God out of their calculations. God had promised that Israel should be great in numbers and mighty in power. He who plans against God shall miserably fail and shall be shown to be a fool.

1. Cruel Taskmasters (vv. 11-14). They were placed under heavy burdens. Cruel taskmasters were placed over them who forced them to labor in building treasure cities and all manner of service in the field. This measure was ineffectual, for "the more they afflicted them, the more they multiplied and grew." This rapid growth resulted in more intense burdens being heaped upon them.

2. Murder of Male Infants by the Midwives (vv. 15-21). This measure also miscarried, as the midwives feared God and chose to obey him. Because they refused to destroy God's people he gave them homes and children and the joys thereof.

3. Drowning of Male Children in the River (v. 22). In order to make this measure effective all the people were charged with the responsibility of casting the Hebrew male children into the river. This mandate seems to have been given shortly before Moses was born. This plan likewise was foiled, and the very child who when a man upset his throne, was sheltered and nurtured in his own palace.

IV. The Birth and Education of Moses (2:1-5).

The measure which was designed to destroy the Hebrew menace, also brought to Pharaoh's palace and educated there the very man who afterward shattered the Egyptian power and set free the enslaved people. The faith of Moses' parents caused them to ignore the command of the king and hide him for three months (Hebrews 11:23). Faith in God is the antidote for fear (Psalms 27:1). His mother discerned in him a proper child, or a child fair to God (Acts 7:20), and believed him to be the deliverer of his people. She no doubt instilled this truth in his mind from his childhood. Perhaps led by the story of Noah's ark she made an ark of bulrushes and placed Moses in it and left it at the place where Pharaoh's daughter would be attracted when she came down to bathe. Miriam, his sister, was placed where she could watch the affair. She came with a suggestion at the opportune moment as to a nurse for the baby. Education at his mother's knee gave character, and education at the Egyptian court qualified him to be the historian and lawgiver of his people.

Necessary Ingredients.

"Love suffereth long and is kind; love envieth not; love vaunteth not itself." Get these ingredients into your life. Then everything that you do is eternal. It is worth doing. It is worth giving time to.

Self-Denial.

Self-denial when regularly kept up and not only indurged now and then, out of laziness or partial affection, is one of the dearest tokens that God's holy spirit is with men, preparing them for eternal glory.—Keeble.
